More]Non-equilibrium thermodynamics and metapopulation conservation. The main purpose of this study is to provide an alternative study into the existence of non-equilibrium fluctuation theorems in metapopulation conservation models. It is well-known that conservation laws conserve the probability of a real world process and of a discrete-time process that describes a population at a certain level of complexity. However, the existence of non-equilibrium fluctuations has been challenged in conservation laws. It is argued here that this is in fact due to an unexpected consequence of application of the fluctuation theorem to discrete-time systems. The intrinsic limit of the fluctuation theorem in discrete time is discussed, and consequently the derived result is verified for a one-dimensional stochastic spatially structured metapopulation model that satisfies a weak form of conservation in a diffusion approximation. Simulations are in agreement with the results, but some deviations from the analytical solution are observed. A numerical approximation to the derived solution, based on a finite-difference scheme, is presented. The district court, in granting summary judgment in favor of the University, based its decision upon the arbitrator's interpretation of the Agreement. The district court found the arbitrator's award did not violate the Agreement, or public policy.

We agree. 4 ¶13. The standard of review of an arbitrator's award is that of substantial evidence. Employers Cas. Co. v. Martin, 992 So. 2d 1276, 1280 (Miss. 2008). The standard requires a review of the record as a whole. Id. If the arbitrator's award does not draw its essence from the contract, this court should overturn the award. Id. It is an impossibility for the reviewing court to review the agreement and assess its reasonableness. Id. The arbitrator's interpretation should be given its "common and ordinary meaning." Id.
