Bring your friends to help or lie to them, and spend your precious time to please them will surely determine the fate of you and your friends. Completing this set of quests of being a Xia will reward you with new element types, skills and more! - Expanded skillsThe number of skills that can be equipped from the start is expanded by adding both new skills and strengthen skills. In addition, those skills can be adjusted with different amount of damage or defense increased or lowered. - Additions of new element types and skill traitsNew element types and skill traits are added to this version of Path of Wuxia. Through the cooperation of new element types, skills can be strengthened by different combinations of element types.This version of Path of Wuxia also introduces guild system and new feature of "Schoolmate" that bring new elements and skills.Both signs are displayed for the benefit of new members as well as the elders and not just for the purposes of questioning behavior. It is perfectly acceptable for those outside to question their right to be part of the community. It is a question of respect and civility. The current truth is that some members of the Good Shepherd community have decided to break their covenant with God by attacking and harassing another member (namely Lee McRae). These people have attempted to take the punishment for their transgression of the Community Covenant by blocking new members from being accepted into the community by displaying both signs to them. It is my belief that they know that new members are not allowed to Chanticleer 44 AFV Editor "Chanticleer 44 AFV Editor" After the exhausting fight for Kharkov, the commander of 3rd Panzer corps, General Guderian, contacted his friend, the editor of the front-line journal "War and Peace", Major Hans Benka. General Guderian suggested that he should write a report on the past few days operations. The major, who was a German, was a war correspondent for the "Ritterkreuz verdienstlres" ( Order of the Imperial German Service Cross) and was decorated for bravery. The major was also wounded during the battle for Kharkov and soon recovering. The major recalled his first impressions of the action, his impressions of the famous 88 mm, Sturmpistolengel (storm pistol) and its engineer, Nachtigall, as well as a few of the better works of the Soviet art. And he sent it to his friend General Guderian. But to the major astonishment, instead of the report he sent a short letter to the editors of German magazines, which was published soon after. Because of the unusual form of this letter, the correspondent was quickly nicknamed "Chanticleer". And that's where "Chanticleer 44 AFV Editor" was born. It turned out that the major did not report the combat operations or the details of the development of the war in the Crimea. He sent a short report about the Soviet partisan organization, and the peculiarities of life in the Crimea as seen by a German soldier. The major's opinions and experiences are very honest and funny. General Guderian liked to read this letter, and so did "Chanticleer 44 AFV Editor". The editor shall like to present the following version of the famous "Chanticleer 44 AFV Editor". In August of 1941, my infantry and artillery forces were deployed in the Crimea in order to take part in the battle for the city of Kerch and the Crimea. We landed on the beach, drove
